

Wandsworth CoProduction Research Conference

Monday 20 April 10am - 4pm

Springfield University Hospital Conference Centre, Glenburnie Road, Tooting, London SW17 7DJ

The HOW of community centred coproduction of public services with interactive workshops facilitated by our university partners, health service managers and community leaders.

including guest speaker

Emeritus Professor John Benington University of Warwick

On Mobilising Movement for Whole System Change In Times of Volatility, Uncertainty, Complexity and Ambiguity

followed by Q&A with Paul Martin, Chief Executive, Wandsworth Council

A special opportunity to share ideas and fellowship with people from across our diverse systems and social networks: academics, policy makers, public servants and community practitioners from local religious & community organisations. As it is through these kinds of in-between spaces that new knowledge emerges and from which change and transformation becomes possible.

The conference is free of charge but registration is essential
Book your place by contacting nadeene@wcen.org.uk 020-7720 9110
Lunch is provided | nearest tube is Tooting Bec | parking £1
For more information, please visit www.spaa.info